b2 New York refer to your file 128-555, [redacted]
b7D [redacted] Report of 7/1/51, page 10, sets forth information

APPENDIX, 20-G.

STATEMENT OF SPECIALIZED EXPERIENCE

As part of a sustained and growing interest in human rights, my practical experience and training in labor-management relations stretches over a period of thirty years. It began during the mid-1930's when I became a teacher of Workers' Education, WPA. During 1936-1937 I attended Brookwood Labor College (supported by the American Federation of Labor) and studied trade unionism, collective bargaining, social and labor legislation, problems of farm labor and migrant workers. As part of my training, along with students from trade unions and farm workers organizations, I participated as a volunteer union organizer in the automobile industry during the Auto Workers' General Strike. As a teacher of Workers Education, I organized and taught classes of unionized workers in trade union subjects.

This interest continued throughout law school and was extended to an interest in fair employment practices. In preparation for the LL.M. degree, I majored in Constitutional Law and Labor Law, engaged in intensive study of National Labor Relations Board operations, procedures and decisions. This research culminated in one of the first definitive law review articles on fair employment ("The Right to Equal Opportunity in Employment," -- see 20-G, Publications), which was reprinted in several periodicals and cited in a court decision on discrimination in employment.

In law practice, have dealt with legal problems of sharecroppers and migrant workers, and have advised and represented various persons in matters of alleged unfair and discriminatory hiring and firing practices. Prepared memoranda of law and briefs dealing with issues of discrimination in employment and worked on drafts of model anti-discrimination laws.

At Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison, handled matters of labor-management relations as counsel for employers, e.g. arbitration proceedings in connection with collective bargaining agreements and disputes as to seniority rights, work assignments, and other employment rights growing out of multi-corporate acquisitions; analyzed conflicting claims of various groups of employees and union locals under collective bargaining contracts and advised employer of contractual obligations thereof; reviewed cases involving disciplinary actions to insure that contractual obligations were met and that such warranted decision, prepared supportive memoranda and briefs on positions taken.

As a member of the Committee on Civil and Political Rights of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, 1961-1963, at the request of the Commission I did an intensive study on the background of discrimination against women including discrimination in employment because of sex. (See 20-G, Publications). Research at Yale Law School in preparation for U.S.D. Commission on a socio-legal study of the background of present racial problems. "The Negro in the Racial Crisis", included comparative

APPENDIX - Question No. 26

During 1936-1938, I was associated with the Lovestonite group in New York City. I joined this group because I was informed I could get an understanding of and critical appraisal of Communism, which I did. While the leaders of this group were former members of the Communist Party in the 1920's, they were the most knowledgeable critics of Communist methods and tactics, and for that reason I have never regretted my exposure to them. My own philosophy has been one of creative non-violent direct action which I have studied and espoused since my law student days in the early 1940's.

APPENDIX Question No. 35.

During my student days, in part time jobs under sweatshop conditions, I was not noted for obsequiousness. Hence, on one or two occasions I was fired for refusal to obey what I thought were unreasonable orders. I have in mind a waitress job with Alice Foote McDougall, in which a Scotch hostess discharged me because she did not think I served her with sufficient politeness. In a typing job I was fired because I made too many errors. In a one-day hotel job I was fired because I couldn't cook. To the best of my knowledge I have not been discharged from a responsible job for undesirable characteristics.

Question No. 37

In 1935, I was arrested on a picket line during the boycott of the New York American Newspaper Guild members of the New York Amsterdam News. It was during the days when picketing (more than 2 or three pickets) was being tested. I was arrested along with 15 to 20 other pickets and was dismissed.

In February or March, 1940, I was arrested on a picket line of the Interstate Bus at Petersburg, Va. for refusing to move to a broken seat when white passengers entered the bus. I was fined; the case was appealed by NAACP counsel; the Virginia Supreme Court granting a constitutional challenge of the Virginia segregation statute withdrew the charge of violation of assembly and retained a disorderly conduct charge. On appeal the case and the fine was raised. I refused to pay the fine and spent several days in jail using non-violent tactics. The jail warden to get the cell cleaned and disinfected succeeded and also received an apology from the NAACP. Release -- a rare occurrence in 1940.

Full disclosure of both of these arrests was made in the application attached in my application for admission to the New York State Bar. Disclosure was also made in application for admission to the California Bar. The interstate bus case was in the Supreme Court decision, Morgan v. Virginia, (1946), involving someone else, in which segregation was declared inapplicable to interstate passengers.

PAULI MURRAY
YALE LAW SCHOOL

A letterhead of the Worker's Defense League, dated December 3, 1949, listed Pauli Murray as a member of the National Executive Board of that organization. The letterhead of that organization dated November 27, 1944, listed her in a similar capacity. A letterhead dated April 24, 1950, listed Pauli Murray as a member of the National Advisory Committee of that organization. The Worker's Defense League has not been cited as a subversive group by either the Department of Justice or a legislative group; however, FBI files reflect that it was formed by the Socialist Party in May, 1938, as a militant political nonpartisan organization to protect labor's rights before the Courts and in mobilizing public support. (100-6557-31,101,253.)

Information was received in 1960 that Pauli Murray, Special Field Secretary of the Worker's Defense League, was at that time an inactive member of the Socialist Party who gave all her time to the Worker's Defense League. (61-10123-46)

A letterhead of the Civil Rights Defense Committee dated August 5, 1943, carried a list of members of the national committee. Included in this list was the name of Pauli Murray. As a footnote on the stationery of the Civil Rights Defense Committee was a statement that the Civil Rights Defense Committee was endorsed by the American Civil Liberties Union and Worker's Defense League.

Concerning the Civil Rights Defense Committee of New York City, a reliable source of information advised during 1941 that this committee was formed during 1941, having as its primary purpose the defense of the members of the Socialist Workers Party who were being tried in Minneapolis, Minnesota. The Socialist Workers Party has been cited by the Department of Justice pursuant to Executive Order 10450. (62-8473-16)

Paul Murray

Information was received in 1949 that Paul Murray, Box 170, Howard University, Washington, D.C., was a subscriber to "The Militant." It was reliably reported in November, 1950, that "The Militant" is edited, controlled and published as a weekly newspaper of the Socialist Workers Party. (100-10-35-35 p. 85)

A reliable source of information advised in December, 1949, that as of that date the name of Paul Murray, 112 West 50th Street, New York City, was included in a list of active members of the National Lawyers Guild. The National Lawyers Guild has been cited as a communist front by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in a report dated March 28, 1944. (62-84745-19)

The files of the FBI contain no additional pertinent information regarding captioned individual.

PAULI MURRAY
aka A. Pauli Murray
Applicant
Federal Administrative and Management Examination
Civil Service Commission
Washington, D. C.
SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

A full field investigation is being conducted by this Bureau concerning the captioned applicant at the request of the Civil Service Commission, the basis being admissions on her Standard Form 57 of (1) membership in Lovestonite Group in New York City during 1936 through 1938, (2) employment by Open Road, Inc., on November, 1930, to March, 1931, and (3) employment by Spanish Refugee Campaign from August to November, 1939.

It should be noted that Jay Lovestone, following his expulsion from the Communist Party of the United States in 1927, formed a dissenting group. One of the names used by this group is the Independent Communist Labor League of America which has been cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Concerning Open Road, it should be noted that this group was cited in the May, 14, 1951, House Committee on Un-American Activities Guide.

Concerning the Spanish Refugee Campaign, it should be noted that the House Committee on Un-American Activities has cited the Spanish Refugee Relief Campaign as a communist front.

The applicant, whose date and place of birth is listed as November 21, 1910, Baltimore, Maryland, has resided in Ghana from February, 1960, to June, 1961. A copy of her Standard Form 57 and Standard Form 57A are enclosed.

REFERENCE

At Philadelphia, Pa.

Honorable WILLIAM H. HASTIE, U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Federal Building, 9th and Market Streets, advised on December 30, 1966, at one time he had been Dean of the Law School at Howard University in Washington, D.C. During this period the applicant had been a student at the law school and had been the best student the law school had ever had. He had known applicant daily during this period which ended in the early 1940's. Since that time his acquaintance with the applicant has been limited to casual, infrequent visits; however, he has heard about her through writings and other sources.

About three years ago, he spent approximately a week in contacts with her while she was teaching at the Law School, University of Ghana in West Africa and was very pleased with the very skillful manner in which applicant presented to her law students the principles and ideals upon which the United States Government was founded. Something, according to Judge HASTIE, particularly difficult to do since the students were members of an almost complete totalitarian government. He described the applicant as being a very loyal person, extremely hardworking and intense, an able attorney, and capable in all endeavors. He qualified this by stating he did not know how she would be in an administrative position, but believed applicant to possess a great deal of drive and initiative.

Judge HASTIE advised he would recommend the applicant highly for a position of trust with the U.S. Government.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

U. S. Civil Service Commission informed that in connection with previous information, [redacted] who is listed as a reference for applicant, previously informed she had taught at the Southern School for Workers for a period of three weeks in the summer of 1937 and from 1937 until the school became inactive, she allowed her name to be included in its advisory committee. During the period the school had its office in Richmond, Virginia, [redacted] participated in one or two institutes held in Richmond.

b7C

In connection with another inquiry in April 1952, RH [redacted] who is not available for recontact, advised that the Southern School for Workers was dissolved as of January 20, 1951.

Informant related it was his opinion this organization was not run or controlled by the Communist Party (CP) nor were any of its members. Informant further related there was no political cooperation between the Southern School for Workers and the CP. Informant stated that there had been from time to time certain individuals temporarily affiliated with the school about whom he had had some doubts as to their loyalty to this country, but that the school itself and its principal participants were definitely not CP members nor sympathetic with the CP.

Informant pointed out that frequently the aims of the school might parallel with the aims of the CP with respect to a particular issue such as housing, poll tax, etc., but that the position of the school on any of these issues had nothing to do with Communist ideology.

RH [redacted] informed on January 17, 1942 the Southern School for Workers originated in about 1928 and operated in various places in North Carolina until about 1940. Informant stated the purpose of this school was to teach Trade Union members how to conduct union meetings, how to put on entertainments, study parliamentary procedure, study public speaking, economics, hygiene, English and union organizational tactics.

b2

RH [redacted] is not available for recontact.

b7D

RH 140-1169

RH [ ] related on February 17, 1951 that during the 1938 - 1939 sessions, the school was ostensibly held in the interest of educating members of labor unions in the southern part of the United States, but these sessions were actually under the direction of the CP and were used as a "sounding board for possible recruits into the CP". This informant also stated these sessions were utilized as a means for distributing CP documents at that time.

b2

RH [ ] is not available for recontact.

Richmond informants, who are familiar with some members and activities of the CP in the State of Virginia, have advised that the name of [ ] is unknown to them, and they can recall no information concerning her.

EDUCATION

On December 19, 1966, [redacted] Yale University Law School, (YLS), 127 Wall Street, New Haven, Connecticut, advised that MURRAY entered September 18, 1961 and received a JSD degree June 14, 1965. The title of her thesis is "Re-examination of the Roots of Racial Crises as a Guide to Social Policy".

She stated that while there, MURRAY had the title of Senior Fellow and this gave her a small stipend to aid in her living expenses and also for her tuition. In return she did some tutoring at the school.

[redacted] stated that she recalled the applicant with a favorable impression as being a refined individual. She was always cheerful and appeared to be the type who would always exchange the "pleasantries of the day". She appeared to be competent and was well regarded at the school. She stated that she never had any reason to question her moral character, associates, or loyalty to the United States. She recommended her for a position of trust and confidence.

[redacted] on December 19, 1966, advised that he was personally acquainted with the applicant. He stated that she was extremely able, wholly honest, and a loyal American. He stated that she was intelligent and virtuous. He stated that while working towards her JSD degree, she carried the title of Senior Fellow and worked with first year graduate students and did some assistant teaching as to first year law students, thus she had faculty status. He stated she performed well in all aspects of her association with the law school. He recommended her for a position of trust and confidence.

On December 19, 1966, [redacted]

[redacted] stated that he was [redacted]

[redacted] and also [redacted]

He stated that she was extraordinarily able, gifted, gracious, and still eager and ambitious to seek her own betterment. He stated that she possesses "tremendous character", is above reproach, and "not a leftist". He stated she is a loyal American citizen. He stated she has "no unfavorable tendencies". He recommended her highly for a position of trust and confidence.

On December 19, 1966, [redacted]

[redacted] of Law and Legal History, advised that the applicant was a very determined person, one who, notwithstanding her age, and the fact she is a member of a minority group, is still intensely interested in advancing herself in life. She is competent, personable, honorable, and refined. While at Yale she worked on her particular field of legal interest, mainly, the Negro, civil rights issues and allied fields. He never knew her to be an outspoken critic of the United States and/or its administration. She believed that much was being done for the Negro and that yet more had to be done.

To his knowledge her only associates were members of the Law School "family". He did not know of her to have any extensive circle of friends outside the school. He was aware of nothing unfavorable regarding MURRAY. He recommended her for a position of trust and confidence.

On December 19, 1966, [redacted]

related that she was acquainted with MURRAY during the time she was at Yale. She described her as possessing a dynamic personality, aggressive, honest and yet compassionate. She knew of no associates outside of the members of the Yale faculty, their families, and possibly some unrecalled graduate students.

COX

She stated MURRAY was vitally interested in the history of the Negro movement within the United States, the various laws, how they affected the Negro, and how new legislation could better affect the Negro as a whole. She could not be considered a radical, left wing, or in opposition to the administration of the United States. She recommended her for a position of trust and confidence.

On December 19, 1966, [redacted]

[redacted] stated she had been acquainted with MURRAY during the four years the applicant was there. She always found her to be a lady. She was quick-witted, intelligent, and understanding. [redacted] felt that MURRAY, although extremely interested in her race and their history and plight in this country and lack of advancement, never lost sight of gains being made of late in civil rights matters. The applicant had tremendous drive and always indicated a desire to "make something out of this world". MURRAY indicated an intention to achieve a place of prominence for herself, but based on her ability. This was one reason for her working towards a JSD degree.

She knew nothing unfavorable regarding MURRAY and recommended her for a position of trust and confidence.

On December 22, 1966, Mr. THOMAS I. EMERSON, Augustus E. Lines Professor of Testamentary Law, stated that he was closely associated with the applicant during her time at Yale. He served as her thesis advisor. He saw MURRAY frequently, academically as well as socially as a guest in his home. Mr. EMERSON described the applicant as being: "very capable, a hard worker, morally sound as a dollar, responsible, and trustworthy".

He advised that she has worked hard during her lifetime to obtain a place of prominence for a member of her race. He stated she has traveled extensively. She worked in Ghana, taught school there and wrote a book dealing with the constitutional law of that country. However, she left Ghana when she fell out of political favor with one of its political leaders.

He advised that recently he was telephonically contacted by [redacted] of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission, Washington, D.C., relative to MURRAY and her forthcoming position as general counsel with that agency. In an affidavit prepared by EMERSON in December of 1952, he stated: "I do not now support, and never have supported, the Communist movement (although actions taken by me for other purposes may have incidentally been consistent with positions also taken at the time by Communists or their supporters); . . . my position has always been that of an independent liberal, and I have never been willing to have any person or group determine my stand on questions of public policy."

BASIS FOR INVESTIGATION

This investigation was conducted at the request of the Civil Service Commission (CSC), based upon the applicant's answer to Question 26, on Application For Federal Employment, certified by the applicant. Question 26 reads, "Are you now, or have you ever been, a member of the Communist Party, United States of America, the Communist Political Association, the Young Communist League, or any other communist organization?". The applicant answered no to this question, but in the appendix to her Application For Federal Employment she made the following statement:

APPENDIX - Question No. 26

"During 1936-1938, I was associated with the Lovestonite group in New York City. I joined this group because I was informed I could get an understanding of and critical appraisal of Communism, which I did. While the leaders of this group were former members of the Communist Party in the 1920's, they were the most knowledgeable critics of Communist methods and tactics, and for that reason I have never regretted my exposure to them. My own philosophy has been one of creative non-violent direct action which I have studied and espoused since my law student days in the early 1940's."

Miscellaneous

On December 21, 1966, a review of the "New York Times" issue of May 9, 1965, disclosed an advertisement on Page 6B entitled "A Reply to Secretary Rusk on Vietnam." The article read in part as follows:

"...The situation in Vietnam raises serious moral questions, not merely diplomatic and tactical ones. As a nation we hold immense power. To permit it to be used in reckless and barbarous ways is to imperil the entire basis of American leadership....

"We demand that the Administration return to the 'plain facts' and make an earnest attempt to obtain a negotiated peace.... We must arrange for an immediate cease-fire and offer to negotiate with the principal combatants including the Viet Cong; we must cease our air raids on North Vietnam; we should use the good offices of the United Nations in bringing about these ends; and we must assure the world that we will not use nuclear weapons in the pursuit of victory or in the 'pursuit of peace.'"

The advertisement indicated that the contributors and signers of the advertisement were members of the Greater Boston Faculty Committee on Vietnam. Among the signers from Yale University appeared the name of PAULI MURRAY, Law.

NY 140-16717

National Lawyers Guild, Sacramento Chapter,
Sacramento, California (joined in 1946)

United Office and Professional Workers of America, Local 19

American Jewish Congress Chapter, 212 West 50th Street, New York, New York (July, 1946 - April, 1947)

Communist Party (CP) (Opposition) (Summer, 1936, to Fall, 1937)

Information concerning the United Office and Professional Workers of America and the National Lawyers Guild appears in the Appendix attached hereto.

Concerning her membership in the CP, United States of America (USA), (Opposition), the applicant stated in part as follows:

"...The members of the 'Communist Party Opposition' were called popularly 'Lovestoneites' because their theoretical leader was one Jay Lovestone.

"I came in contact with the 'Lovestoneites' in the spring of 1936 at a time when I became curious about the labor movement, the communist movement and the philosophy of social change. Having a student mind I began investigations and was advised by other student friends that I would get the most intelligent and objective presentation of the aims and purposes of communism and of the differences among the various radical and splinter groups through the 'Lovestoneite' school. I, therefore, attended the New Workers School at that time located at 131 West 33rd Street as I recall, and took courses in Fundamentals of Communism, Trade Unionism, Current Political Issues, etc. I joined their organization sometime in the summer of 1936 and remained a member until the fall of 1937.

NY 140-16717

"I resigned from the 'Communist Party (Opposition)' in the fall of 1937, in part because their official slogan was to vote for Earl Browder and I could not understand the logic of voting for official communists when they disagreed with the tactics of official communists. More important, I found the practices of political communism in conflict with my growing convictions about the practice of Christianity and my religious experiences...."

The New York "Herald Tribune," October 1, 1952, refers to EARL BROWDER as the General Secretary of the CP from 1930 to 1944.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties:

"CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTIES (NEW YORK CITY)

"1. 'On the basis of its investigations and hearings to date, the committee concludes that the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and a coordinating and organizing group in support thereof, titled the "Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties," are Communist fronts. Created, dominated, and controlled by members and officials of the Communist Party, the National Assembly for Democratic Rights and the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties were organized as propaganda devices for the conduct of "mass activity" in support of the avowed objective of "reversal or nonapplication" of the Supreme Court decisions of June 5, 1961, which upheld the constitutionality of the registration and disclosure provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950 as applied to the Communist Party, and the Smith Act membership clause making punishable active and purposive membership in the Communist Party.

'* * * The long-range objective of the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties is to serve as the vehicle for concealed Communist participation in, and direction of, propaganda and agitational activities aimed to nullify the Internal Security and Smith Acts.'

CIVIL RIGHTS DEFENSE COMMITTEE

A source advised in September, 1941, that the Civil Rights Defense Committee (CRDC) with offices at 160 Fifth Avenue, Room 809, New York City, was established about August 1, 1941, and the aims of the Committee were to defend the members of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), who were being tried at Minneapolis, Minnesota, and to raise funds for their defense through the mediums of public meetings, pamphlets and other similar means.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

In November, 1945, a second source advised that the SWP held its National Convention in New York City in November, 1944. At one session of the convention, according to this source, the Acting National Secretary of the SWP gave a report concerning the CRDC. The source stated that he indicated that the tremendous publicity given to the jailing of 18 individuals, known generally as the Minneapolis Labor Case, and the support given them by official leaders of trade unions was due entirely to work and propaganda of the CRDC. The source advised that the Acting National Secretary of the SWP indicated that with few exceptions, the CRDC is made up of SWP members.

HARLEM ASHRAM

In 1944, a source furnished a three page article entitled, "The Work of the Harlem Ashram". A portion of this article reads as follows:

"There are three peoples in the world today whom we regard as having specially redemptive possibilities. They are the peoples of India and Puerto Rico struggling for freedom from imperialistic exploitation, and the Negro people of America striving to be free from that white domination which is akin to it. Like the 'suffering servant' of Judaism, they can show the powerful peoples who dominate them the way to a free and just and godly social order. We cannot help feeling that it is God who has led us into warm and vital relationship to the most hopefully redemptive movements among these three peoples.....

"...Our dominant purpose in founding the ashram in Harlem was to tackle America's No. 1 problem in reconciliation....

"...We have sought to make it clear that the Gandhian way at its best utilizes in the earlier stages of the struggle all of the best ordinary methods, with resort to direct action in the spirit of good will when these methods prove inadequate...."

In 1944, a second source advised that the Harlem Ashram was located at 2013 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

LIBERAL PARTY

In the "New York Times", issue of March 1, 1944, it was reported that a call had been issued for a statewide convention to form the Liberal Party by DEAN ALFANGE and JOHN L. CHILDS. It was reported that the proposed political party would have as its nucleus the "Right Wing" of the American Labor Party, together with Liberal-minded citizens of New York regardless of Party affiliations.

The "New York Times", issue of May 20, 1944, in a news dispatch reported that the Liberal Party was started on May 19, 1944, at a convention in New York. The "backbone" of the Liberal Party was reported as consisting of groups from the "Right Wing" of the American Labor Party who lost control of that party in the 1944 primaries to the "Left Wing" of Communist elements.

In a letter to the "New York Times" bearing the date of December 12, 1944, Mr. JOHN L. CHILDS, the then State Chairman of the Liberal Party, said in part: "The Liberal Party was initiated by non-Communist elements of the American Labor Party."

UNITED OFFICE AND PROFESSIONAL WORKERS OF AMERICA (UOPWA)

The "CIO News" issue of February 20, 1950, on page six, column one, contained an article reflecting that the CIO Executive Board had voted to expel the UOPWA from the CIO effective March 1, 1950. The board acted, according to the article, on a report filed by the trial committee appointed to hear the charges against the UOPWA. The committee found "the policies and activities of the UOPWA followed and continue to follow exactly, without deviation, the program of the CP.....Never in the history of the UOPWA has any policy ever been adopted which in any way runs counter to the policies of the CP, or to the interests of the Soviet Union, as those interests are reflected in the program of the CP".

The "Union Voice", the official organ of the Distributive Processing and Office Workers of America (DPOWA), in its issue of October 22, 1950, reflects that the UOPWA, the Distributive Workers Union, and the Food, Tobacco, Agricultural and Allied Workers of America merged on October 7, 1950, to form the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America.

WORKERS DEFENSE LEAGUE

The House Committee on Un-American Propaganda Activities, in its 1938 report, page 678, reported that "Just as the Communist Party has its defense movement, the International Labor Defense, so has the Socialist Party the Workers Defense League. The latter organization was formed in May, 1936, by leading members of the Socialist Party. The Executive Committee of the League is....composed of Socialists and extreme left wingers."

The "Daily Worker", issue of December 16, 1944, contained an article by DOROTHY LOEB, in which it was stated that "the League, which is solidly controlled by Trotskyites, NORMAN THOMAS Socialists, and Social Democrats, has long since established its direction. This can be summed up in the simple reminder that this is the organization that is leading a fight in behalf of the eighteen Minneapolis Trotskyites jailed under Federal conviction for sedition."

On January 5, 1967, [redacted] Engineering Attorney, advised that the applicant worked under his direct supervision for about a year and a half in the Litigation Division of the firm. He stated that the applicant's performance was satisfactory but that her interests were in the sociology field rather than in litigation matters. He felt that she was not well suited to the give and take necessary in the rather harsh and practical field of litigation. He advised that she was a mature woman who had her own ideas on the pursuits that interested her. [redacted] [redacted] stated that the applicant's moral and personal habits left nothing to be desired and that she appeared to be emotionally and mentally stable. He advised that he had no reason to question her loyalty to the United States. In this connection, he advised that after leaving the firm she went to Ghana where she taught in a law school. Upon her return from Ghana the applicant stated that she had tried to explain to her students some of the principles of democracy, but she had found that the political atmosphere in Ghana was very oppressive. She also noted that after some of her comments about democracy she observed government intelligence agents attending her classes.

[redacted] advised that he was not acquainted with the applicant's work for the Democratic Committee of New York County in connection with the 1956 Presidential election, however, he knows that the applicant has been closely associated with Mr. LLOYD GARRISON. He advised further that he has no knowledge of the applicant's activities since her return from Ghana and he has no personal knowledge of the applicant's family. He recommended her for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] formerly employed by his firm and now working for Rugoff Theatres, New York City, was a close associate of the applicant's during her tenure with the firm.

DETAILS:

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

[redacted] on January 10, 1967, furnished the following information at Salt Lake City, Utah:

[redacted] is known professionally as [redacted]. She is [redacted] of Harper and Row, New York City, New York, and can be reached at all times through that company.

Sometime in the early 1950's, while [redacted] with Harper and Row, this company decided to publish a book being written by the Applicant. [redacted] was assigned to work with Applicant in the preparation and editing of this book, which was later issued under the title of "Proud Shoes." As a result of this association, [redacted] and Applicant became close acquaintances and have been in rather regular association since that time.

The book "Proud Shoes" was based on Applicant's analysis of her personal background and origins. The Applicant comes from a family of educated Negroes, with a rather strong infusion of southern white aristocratic blood. Some of the members of her family have made the decision to pass as Caucasians and have been successful in doing this. It was this background which provided the basis for the book being written by the Applicant at the time and caused during her lifetime some conflicts in the personality of the Applicant, which Applicant has finally been successful in resolving by deciding that although she has roots in Africa, her cultural heritage and future are clearly with the West.

[redacted] in her association with the Applicant, at no time became seriously involved in the political thinking of the Applicant. The cultural and ethnical influences were the paramount issues under consideration.

The book was reasonably successful and resulted in much satisfaction to the Applicant and to [redacted]

[redacted] Sometime thereafter, on the recommendation of [redacted] Applicant was accepted on a scholarship basis for a term at the McDowell Colony, Peterborough, New Hampshire. She was the first Negro ever accepted at this Colony and was accepted only on the personal guarantee of [redacted] This is a colony principally for writers and seeks to provide ideal surroundings for the activities of literary people. Since that time the Applicant has on a few occasions returned to that colony for a period of time.

b7C

Applicant by training is a lawyer. She also has a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Law and in June, 1965, was awarded a Doctor's degree in the Science of Law by Yale University. [redacted] was present at the commencement exercises.

Applicant has during her entire life been interested in upgrading the status of the Negro in the United States and elsewhere. As a result of this, she has told [redacted] that she came in contact with people who later turned out to be those who had political interests rather than Negro interests at heart. Because of this, she broke away from numerous groups who claimed to be seeking benefits for the Negro but in the opinion of Applicant were not.

[redacted] does not recall the names of these groups but is of the opinion that in the civil rights movement today the Applicant would be found with the moderate tendencies and would be opposed to those who advocated Black Power and civil disobedience.

As a result of Applicant's background, she has gradually matured. Today she can view the Negro situation with hope and without bitterness.

Sometime prior to the writing of "Proud Shoes" the Applicant practiced law but was apparently not financially very successful. Subsequent to the writing of the book, LLOYD GARRISON, a prominent New York Attorney, became interested in the Applicant, and she joined the firm in which GARRISON was a partner. This was the same firm to which ADLAI STEVENSON was attached. Partly through GARRISON's influence she applied for and was accepted as an instructor at the University of Ghana. [ ] is not certain whether Applicant was employed by the university or went there under some United States aid program. Applicant viewed this as an opportunity to examine her African roots but quickly became disillusioned with NKRUMAH. Applicant found that she was required to teach law at the university without any comment or interpretation. She found that the only Negroes who treated her with respect were those from the United States and that the Ghanaians did not want her there. She became disillusioned with the fact that Ghana was a complete dictatorship, with a total lack of freedom.

Either during the time that Applicant was in Ghana or shortly thereafter she coauthored a book with a man from England which pertained to constitutional law of Ghana. [ ] does not know the name of this book nor the name of the coauthor. delete

On one occasion during her stay in Ghana she was returned to the United States. Enroute her plane landed at an airport in one of the European countries, believed to have been Spain. Afterward, in telling [ ] of her experience at this airport, she stated that for the first time she realized she really belonged to the "pink and white culture" and not to the black culture of Africa. Since returning to the United States from Ghana, she has been invited on one or two occasions to make a tour of Africa, but because of her severe disillusionment with Ghana, she has decided not to make this tour. The purpose of the tour would have been to write a book on her impressions. The Applicant was afraid she could not be sympathetic to the plight of the Negroes in Africa because of her experience in Ghana.

It is [ ] understanding that Applicant did, however, write a small book or booklet for the United States Information Service after returning from Ghana. [ ] has not seen this book, nor does she know its name.

[redacted] states that on the basis of the information furnished by her and her experiences with the Applicant, she considers that Applicant is completely loyal to the United States and of good character and associations. She has never, however, discussed political matters with Applicant, except as these were incidental to other conversations.

influence she applied for and was accepted as an instructor at the University of Ghana. [ ] is not certain whether Applicant was employed by the university or went there under some United States aid program. Applicant viewed this as an opportunity to examine her African roots but quickly became disillusioned with NKRUMAH. Applicant found that she was required to teach law at the university without any comment or interpretation. She found that the only Negroes who treated her with respect were those from the United States and that the Ghanaians did not want her there. She became disillusioned with the fact that Ghana was a complete dictatorship, with a total lack of freedom.

Either during the time that Applicant was in Ghana or shortly thereafter she coauthored a book with a man from England which pertained to constitutional law of Ghana. [ ] does not know the name of this book nor the name of the coauthor.

On one occasion during her stay in Ghana she returned to the United States. Enroute her plane landed at an airport in one of the European countries, believed to have been Spain. Afterward, in telling [ ] of her experience at this airport, she stated that for the first time she realized she really belonged to the "pink and white culture" and not to the black culture of Africa. Since returning to the United States from Ghana, she has been invited on one or two occasions to make a tour of Africa, but because of her severe disillusionment with Ghana, she has decided not to make this tour. The purpose of the tour would have been to write a book on her impressions. The Applicant was afraid she could not be sympathetic to the plight of the Negroes in Africa because of her experience in Ghana.

It is [ ] understanding that Applicant did, however, write a small book or booklet for the United States Information Service after returning from Ghana. [ ] has not seen this book, nor does she know its name.

WFO files reflect that on 10/12/43, a report was submitted to the Bureau by this office captioned "RACIAL CONDITIONS IN WASHINGTON, D. C., IS - C, WFO file 100-13892." Included in this report the following information was set forth regarding the Minorities Workshop:

This group was started in Washington, D. C. in October, 1942, in order to organize a new group to work particularly for the interest of the Negro people and with regard to minority problems. The original group forming the Minorities Workshop were more socialist in belief rather than communist and communists have never been active in connection with this organization.

The membership of the Minorities Workshop has always been rather loose with the result that representation at meetings has varied from 15 and 20 persons up to 125 or more. The organization has been consistently interracial in character with approximately 75 per cent being Negroes and the remainder being white people. It has attracted both male and female followers in approximately equal proportions. As previously indicated, most of its followers have been members of the Socialist Party or members of other organizations not particularly favorable to Communism. Among the leaders of this group was PAULI MURRAY.

The Minorities Workshop does not appear on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations and does not appear in the House Committee on Un-American Activities Publication Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications. Information contained in WFO files regarding the Minorities Workshop does not seem of sufficient significance to warrant this information being reported in the Results Of Investigation in this matter. UACB, the above material is being set forth administratively.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] b7C

EMPLOYMENT

On January 3 and 5, 1967, [redacted] Carolina Times Publishing Company, Durham, North Carolina, advised he no longer has the personnel records reflecting applicant's employment, but he does recall she was employed for several months about 1927. Her principal work was of a bookkeeping and stenographic nature but she also did some writing for the newspaper. She was extremely resourceful, highly intelligent, and possessed tremendous ability for newspaper work. [redacted] described her as having had more potential than any employee he had ever had.

[redacted] has had no association with applicant since about 1927. At that time her character was above reproach, and he pointed out that she possessed great honesty and integrity. She had a tendency to associate with the "liberal element", none of which [redacted] could identify. [redacted] suspected some of these persons might have communistic sympathies, and he recalls he once cautioned applicant about such associations and she explained she was only attempting to learn about communism. [redacted] believes she was truthful in this explanation and pointed out that at no time did she ever express any sympathy for communism. Based on his brief association, [redacted] is of the opinion she is a loyal, American citizen and recommends her for a position of trust with the United States Government.

CREDIT AND IDENTIFICATION

On January 3, 1967, [redacted] Identification Bureau, Police Department, and [redacted] Credit Bureau, both Durham, North Carolina, advised their respective records reflected no record on the following names:

CE 140-1433

ANNA PAULINE MURRAY
AGNES PAULINE MURRAY
ANNA PAULINE WYNN
Mrs. WILLIAM RAY WYNN
Mrs. PAULINE FITZGERALD DAME
WILLIAM H. MURRAY
AGNES FITZGERALD MURRAY

NEIGHBORHOOD

On January 3, 1967, [redacted]
[redacted] (formerly [redacted], Durham, North Carolina, advised she has been living in the area since 1931. She recalls that Mrs. PAULINE DAME and her sister formerly lived at 906 Carroll. Mrs. DAME was a school teacher and aunt of the applicant. She enjoyed an excellent reputation and was respected by all the neighbors.

[redacted] does not remember the applicant very well and only recalls that she "seemed to come and go" from Mrs. DAME's residence, staying there only for short periods of time. However, she knows of nothing derogatory regarding applicant or her relatives. Mrs. DAME left Durham about fifteen years ago and is now deceased.

Efforts to locate anyone else in the area who was acquainted with the applicant met with negative results.

"I became a member of the Negro Citizens Committee to Aid the Spanish Loyalists, the purpose of which was to buy, equip, and deliver to the Loyalist Army in Spain supplies needed by them. Not knowing this organization was or would become subversive, I got PAULI MURRAY to join also. Later, however, we held a rump meeting to dissolve the organization, and we immediately got out of this group. With this possible exception, I know of no clubs or organizations of which PAULI MURRAY was a member which could have possibly been considered subversive.

MISCELLANEOUS

Records Library of Congress (LOC), were reviewed by IC [ ] on February 1, 1967, for book reviews and reports on publications and books authored by employee. The following book review was noted for publication "Proud Shoes," written by employee and published by Harper in 1956. b7C

"In a biography of her grandfather FITZGERALD, PAULI MURRAY presents a small part of the pattern of Negro culture in the U.S., for her grandfather was of Irish-African descent, a northern mulatto, one of the few Negro soldiers in the Union Army and a man who took it upon himself to come South after the Civil War to start schools for his 'newly freed' people in Durham, N.C. As such, this review of his life has importance in the history of desegregation, and the author muses of the many shades of meaning and the attitudes Negroes and Whites both hold and attribute to each other."

LOC records contain no other pertinent information regarding publications authored by employee.

IC [ ] caused a search to be made of the files of the Naval Investigative Service Headquarters, and was advised on January 3, 1967, that the files contained no record for employee. b7C

IC [ ] caused a search to be made of the files of The Credit Bureau, Inc., Washington, D.C., and was advised on February 1, 1967, that a satisfactory credit record was located for [ ] sister of employee.

WFO 140-24377

On January 31, 1967, IC [redacted] determined that no record was contained in the Metropolitan Police Department files concerning the employee's sister.

It is to be noted that at all times an indefinite number of unidentified records are out of file and not available for review.

b7C

On January 31, 1967, IC [redacted] searched the files of the U. S. Park Police, and no identifiable record was found concerning the employee's sister.

The files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities were reviewed on February 1, 1967, by IC [redacted] and no record was located for employee's sister, [redacted]

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise that a Security of Government Employees investigation was completed in connection with Pauli Murray in February, 1967, and the results furnished to the Civil Service Commission. The basis for our investigation was admissions by Murray that she had been a member of the Communist Party of America (Lovestonite group) and had been employed by other communist front organizations in the 1940's. The White House requested the results of our investigation March 7, 1967.

We have now learned that Murray was being considered for the position of General Counsel for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. On April 4, 1967, Stephen N. Shulman, Chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, called at my office at which time he was interviewed by Section Chief William V. Cleveland and myself. Mr. Shulman stated that he had carefully reviewed information developed during the FBI investigation of Murray and wanted to discuss the feasibility of going ahead with her appointment in view of derogatory information contained in our reports. At the outset it was carefully explained to Mr. Shulman that the FBI is strictly an investigative agency and the facts contained in our investigative reports were for the assistance of the employing agency in making a decision regarding the person's suitability. Mr. Shulman was told that no recommendations for or against Murray would be made. Mr. Shulman indicated he understood this but hoped to obtain certain clarifying information.

number of communist front organizations she has been associated with persons with communist front affiliations. In 1940 she was found wandering in Providence, Rhode Island, and was returned to New York City by a probation officer who recalled that Murray was dressed in men's clothing, claimed she was a homosexual, and had been taking hormone treatments at Bellevue Hospital as she wanted to change her sex to be a man. Bellevue records show she was released after two days and diagnosed as schizophrenia. Marriage records show she was married to William Ray Wynn at New York City, November 28, 1930, but Murray has stated she never resided with [redacted] and she has never obtained an annulment. She has also admitted two arrests, one in 1935 on a picket line in New York City and another in 1940 at Petersburg, Virginia, for refusing to move to a broken seat when white passengers entered the bus. She was fined and her case appealed by the NAACP. The appeal was lost and as a result the fine was raised and she spent several days in jail.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS:

Mr. Shulman noted the persons interviewed during our investigation generally commented favorably concerning Murray and they wanted to know how to balance this fact with the fact that she had belonged to and worked for numerous communist organizations. He was advised that this was an adjudication problem which he would have to decide, taking into consideration such things as whether or not she had ever openly repudiated her former association with these organizations. Mr. Shulman then wanted to know about the various organizations for whom she was employed by or had been associated with up until 1948, and it was pointed out to him that each organization was fully documented at the end of the reports he had in his possession.

In summarizing, Mr. Shulman stated that his problem was to determine how not to give Murray the job as General Counsel since actually she had now been employed by the Government on a consultant basis for some eight months. He indicated, however, that he would challenge her on four items, namely: her affiliation with Communist Party organizations, the circumstances of her admission and release from Bellevue Hospital; her unconsummated marriage and lack of annulment, and her two arrests and jail sentence.
